BALLET ARIZONA'S COVID-19 RECOVERY & RELIEF FUND

#onlyanintermission

Your support is more important than ever.

Thanks to the passion and generosity of our donors, loyal patrons, and school parents, Ballet Arizona has grown into a strong nationally-recognized company. Today, Ballet Arizona is supported by world-renowned artistic leadership, a corps of talented dancers, a growing student population, season upon season of groundbreaking artistry, and community engagement programs. For all of this we thank you for making us who we are today.

In every crisis there is opportunity, and of necessity, we innovate. During these challenging times we have been adapting to new ways to bring joy and inspiration to our community when it is most needed. People are desperate to connect and experience art and so we are streaming performances, training in virtual classrooms, and finding creative new ways to connect to our patrons.

“The arts are more important than ever now. They are a source of beauty, comfort and inspiration during this unprecedented time.”

—Ballet Arizona Donor, Patricia Bonk

BALLET ARIZONA'S COVID-19 RECOVERY & RELIEF FUND

COVID-19 has presented an unavoidable financial crisis for Ballet Arizona. Performance revenues have halted completely, tuition has been cut in half, and donations have been reduced significantly. Together we can make sure that this is merely a pause in our lives — that it is only an intermission — and with your help we will continue bringing the gift of dance to Arizona.

Understanding the challenges ahead, Jacquie and Bennett Dorrance, longtime Ballet Arizona board members, arts and culture philanthropists, and community champions have recently made a gift of more than $250,000 to Ballet Arizona to help us navigate this financial crisis.

With the Dorrances' gift as a foundation, they are asking you to join them in raising $1,000,000 in recovery and relief funding to provide Ballet Arizona a financial bridge to the other side of this pandemic.

Please help be our bridge to ensure Ballet Arizona is here for future generations. Your financial support can help Ballet Arizona dancers and staff keep their jobs and ensure that the organization remains on solid ground; continuing its mission to bring the joy of dance through live performance, education and community engagement.
